FORTY-SIXTH YEAR

Board Approves City Teachers Salary Hikes Totaling $201,979

Maximum Increases Range Up To $300 Per Year; Principals Up $550

Teachers in the Lincoln public schools will get salary increases next school year after action by the board of education Tuesday morning.

Estimated cost of the increases is $201,979.00.

The new salary schedule provides a $200 a year increase to each teacher holding a degree plus a $100 increment. Teachers already on maximum salaries will receive a $300 increase.

This will bring the maximum salary for a teacher with an A.B. degree from $3,350 to $3,650 and for a teacher with an

M.A. degree from $3,600 to $3,900. Non-degree probationary teachers will be raised from $2,600 to $2,700 maximums and will receive an additional $100 increment.

Minimum salaries will be: non-degree, $2,000; A.B. degree, $2,400; and M.A. degree, $2,600.

Teachers with degrees will reach their maximum levels in 14 steps or years.

Salaries of principals and assistant principals will be increased about $550 a year. The increase will be calculated on the basis of a 40-week year, rather than a 38-week year as in the past.

About 575 teachers, principals, etc., will be affected by the new salary schedule. The breakdown is: classroom teachers (38-week basis), 451; classroom teachers (12-month basis), 4; acting substitute teachers, kindergarten assistants and part time teachers, 47; principals and assistant principals, 36; directors and co-ordinators, 22; nurses, 11; administrative staff members, 4.

In addition, maintenance and operating staff members, clerical staff members, and elementary school clerks will receive regular increment benefits.

Title Changed.

However, principals and assistant principals now on 10- and 12-month basis will receive a $350 to $400 increase. It was brought out that these increases would not reach the maximums for these positions with the exception of Lincoln high school. The maximum salary was set at $6,500.

Present supervisors will have their title changed to "co-ordinator," be placed on a 44-hour week, 40-week year and be given an approximate $500 increase. Directors, who serve on a 12-month basis, will be raised about $800.

The maximum salary for any full-time kindergarten assistant will be $1,750 and for acting teachers on a substitute basis $2,600 at the end of three years.

Tax Increase.

Salaries for accountants in junior high schools was set at 90 cents, in senior high schools at $1.00 per hour.

Although there will be a one mill levy tax increase for the school district, only about six-tenths of this will be an added burden on the taxpayer. This was explained by the fact that about 40 per cent of the increase will be absorbed by the money obtained through the bond reduction program.

It is estimated that about $112,822 of income will be obtained through the increased mill levy tax. This leaves a difference of $89,157 in the increased teacher salary program.

It was brought out by the board that the income from increased assessed valuations will make up this difference.

The only item in the salary schedule which received criticism by any members of the board was the two days orientation pay for beginning teachers. These teachers under the schedule will be paid $12 per day at an estimated total cost of $1,680.

Dr. Stanley Zemer inquired as to the policy in this matter in the past and when told that such teachers heretofore had received no payment, he commented "let's continue that policy."

Dr. John Senning added that such orientation "is an incident concerned with assuming the job" and teachers should not expect pay for it.

Duran And Dr. Shapely Added To McCarthy List Of 'Poor Security Risks'

Former Spanish Officer Given State Dept. Post Despite Adverse U.S. Army Report, Senator Says

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) charged today that the state department gave a high post to a former Spanish republican army officer, Gustavo Duran, although U. S. army reports labeled him a Russian agent.

Continuing to detail to a senate investigating committee his contention that the department has employed poor security risks, McCarthy also said that:

Dr. Harlow Shapely, American delegate to a United Nations commission, has been affiliated with at least 36 communist-front organizations.

A reported sexual perversion—he did not identify the person—had been "allowed to resign" from the state department in 1948 and now is employed by the central intelligence administration at $12,000 a year.

Service's Name Bobs Up.

He has heard reports that John Stewart Service, American consul at Calcutta, was considered a bad security risk by the loyalty appeal board of the civil service commission in a decision reached last March 3. McCarthy asked the senate investigators to check on this.

Dr. Frederick L. Schuman of Williams college, who has been employed to give training lectures to U. S. diplomats, "is one of the closest collaborators in and sponsors of communist-front organizations in America."

Duran was employed by the state department Jan. 30, 1943, as a special assistant at Havana, where Spruille Braden then was ambassador. Duran came to Washington and was Braden's assistant when Braden was assistant secretary of state for Latin-America affairs.

Resigned In 1946.

Duran resigned from the state department in 1946—the same year that Braden left it. McCarthy said Duran's resignation followed "intense congressional pressure and criticism."

McCarthy said Duran is now employed by the United Nations and told the senate foreign relations subcommittee hearing his charges that it ought to find out "how men like Duran shift from the state department to the United Nations."

"Just using common horse sense," he said, "we know someone in the state department is shifting them over."

Chairman Tydings (D-Md) promised the committee will find out who this person is.

"Well Find Out"—Tydings.

"We don't know who it is, but we'll find out," Tydings said. McCarthy said he was even a communist after McCarthy mentioned his name in the speech.

As for Shapely, McCarthy said he was prominent in the affairs of the scientific and cultural conference for world peace which met in New York in March, 1949. McCarthy said that organization was "more than a Soviet-communist meeting."

He added that Secretary of State Acheson denounced the conference as a "sounding board for communist propaganda."

McCarthy asserted it is inconceivable that Acheson "should be concerning the communist-inspired scientific and cultural conference for world peace on the one hand, and retaining Dr. Harlow Shapely, one of its main organizers, in an important position with UNESCO on the other."

Dr. Shapely served as a top policy maker for Far Eastern affairs, McCarthy said he was "one of the small, potent group of 'unapproachable' who year after year formulate and carry out the plans for the department of state and its dealing with foreign nations, particularly those in the Far East."

Plans Are Made For Southwest Center Opening

Plans for the spring opening of the new Southwest Community Center building were made Monday evening at the meeting of the board members at the home of Mrs. W. W. Putney, president.

Progress on the construction of the new home of the Community Chest agency at Twelfth and High streets was reported upon by the building committee. Plans for furniture and equipment were discussed. The building committee consisted of Harry Simon, A. W. Peeks, Edward Rohrig and H. I. Lockwood.

Fred Harlan was elected to the board to replace Mrs. R. E. Schroeder, who resigned.

Farmers' Club To Hear Fred O'Hair

Czech Foreign Minister Clementis 'Resigns' Post

Purge Of Prague Officials Hinted

... Czech Communists May Face Titoism Charges

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia—(AP)—Foreign Minister Vlado Clementis has resigned. Deputy Premier Vilam Siroky has been named as his successor.

The official announcement today gave no reason for the resignation of Clementis, a communist journalist and lawyer who succeeded the late Jan Masaryk as foreign minister in March, 1948.

(The resignation came on the heels of reports that a wholesale purge is imminent in the ranks of the Czech communist party on charges of Titoism. It gave rise to speculation that Clementis would be brought to trial on charges that he had not been faithful to the brand of communism demanded by Soviet Russia as opposed to the "independent" communism of Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.)

He Was Last Link.

The official Czech news agency said that Clementis' resignation had been accepted by President Klement Gottwald on the recommendation of Premier Antonin Zapotocky. Gottwald was premier two years ago when he appointed Clementis.

The agency said Premier Zapotocky announced the resignation at the weekly meeting of the Czech cabinet.

Clementis was one of the last links between the present communist government and the old exile Czech government which Eduard Benes headed in London during the war.

Rumors began in Lake Success last summer that Clementis was out of favor with the communist regime.

Some diplomats at the United Nations had speculated that Clementis would resign his post and seek political refuge in the United States.

At the height of this speculation, his wife went from Prague to New York and later accompanied him on his return to Czechoslovakia.

City Officials Like Denver Housing Units

Lincoln officials were favorably impressed when they inspected Denver's public housing project while on a week-end tour to the mile-high city.

Denver now has about 2,000 public housing units that were constructed shortly before World War II. The city also is pressing work to start construction on several hundred more public units under the 81st congress's public housing program.

The Denver units—administered by the Denver housing authority—are approximately 10 years old. City officials who inspected one project said Tuesday the units were in "very good" physical condition.

Individual units are redecorated about every five years, at the expense of the project as a whole. Rent on the units is based on ability to pay.

The Lincoln city council recently rejected a plan of the Lincoln housing authority to build 700 public housing units here.

Daily Prayer

By REV. G. J. SCHMIDT.
(Lion Congregational Church)

We thank Thee O God for the supreme gift of Thy fatherly love, for our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, who gave his life on the cross of Calvary, that we may have life eternal!

O thou eternal lamb of God, which takest away the sins of the world, have mercy on us! In these sacred days of lent we pause under the shadow of the cross to thank Thee for Thy redeeming love. For Thou didst bear our griefs, Thou hast carried our sorrows. Thou wert bruised for our iniquities and through Thy stripes we are healed!

Dear Lord! In these moments of silent prayer and devotion we ask for grace and mercy for us and for all mankind. Help us to a fuller realization, that there is no salvation without Christ the crucified one. Help us to know and to believe that there is no other name under Heaven, given among men, whereby we must be saved. Help us therefore to love Thee with all our heart and to serve Thee with all our strength. In the name of Christ Jesus our Savior we pray, Amen.

CLEMENTIS... no reason given for his resignation.

Rail Hearing—Branch Line Deficit Is Challenged

Van Pelt Claims $6,000 Profit For Six-Year Period

ALBION, Neb.—(AP)—The claim of the Chicago and North-western railroad that it is losing money on its Scribner-Oakdale branch line was challenged Tuesday by a Lincoln attorney.

The attorney is Robert Van Pelt, who is representing interests protesting the railroad's proposal to abandon the 114-mile branch line. Van Pelt's contentions were brought out during cross-examination of D. K. Van Ingen, assistant auditor of capital expenditures for the road, at the interstate commerce commission hearing on the abandonment proposal.

Cross-Examination Continues. Van Pelt asserted that during 1949 the railroad's gross revenue on this branch line was $410,000. He held that over a six-year period, using the basis of probation of revenue claimed by the road, there was actually a $6,000 profit, instead of an out-of-pocket loss.

He declared that if taken on the basis of division of revenues with the rest of the system on a 50-50 basis, the branch line has made approximately $140,000 during the six-year period.

This method of division frequently is used by the interstate commerce division, he said.

Cross-examination of Van Ingen was expected to continue throughout the day, second in the hearing.

Monday Van Ingen testified that the branch line lost $287,751 on the branch from 1944 through 1949.

Peterson To Attend Wednesday Session

Gov. Val Peterson's appearance at Albion as a witness in the Chicago and North Western railroad abandonment case is scheduled for Wednesday, his office reported Tuesday.

The governor had expected to go on to Albion Tuesday from Omaha, where he was addressing the Lions club.

Assistant Attorney General Bert Overcash reported from Albion, however, that the case would not be ready for the governor's testimony until Wednesday.

Airliner Bomber Is Guilty

Jeweler Who Planted A Time-Bomb On Plane To Kill Wife Faces Hanging

QUEBEC—(AP)—A jury found J. Albert Guay guilty today of murdering his wife by planting a time bomb on a plane that killed her and 22 others. He was sentenced to be hanged.

The jury returned its verdict 17 minutes after Chief Judge Albert Sevigny delivered the fate of the 32-year-old Quebec jeweler into its hands.

Judge Sevigny had asked the jury to return a verdict of guilt or innocence. The judge was weeping as he concluded his three hours of instructions to the French-speaking jury.

Insurance and Romance.

He reviewed the evidence presented by the prosecution, which had said Guay was guilty of a "diabolical" crime in plotting to get rid of his wife to collect on a $10,000 life insurance policy and clear the path for a romance with a pretty young waitress.

Throughout the entire trial the court had sought to prove that Guay had caused a time bomb to be placed aboard the Canadian Pacific Airlines plane which crashed at Sault au Cochon, 40 miles from here, last Sept. 9.

The victims of that crash included three New York officials of the Kennecott Copper Corp.—President E. F. Stannard, President-Designate Arthur D. Storke, and Vice President R. J. Parker.

The crown said that Guay's motives were the $10,000 insurance policy on the life of his 26-year-old wife and the love of Marie-Ange Robitaille, charming 19-year-old waitress.

Increase Not As Large As Requested

Florence Jenkins, president of the Lincoln Teachers' association, said Tuesday that salary increases granted by the board of education were considerably below what the association had requested in many classifications.

She said the $2,400 salary for A.B. degree teachers and $2,600 for those with master's degrees compare favorably with other midwest school salaries, but the maximums of $3,650 and $3,900 respectively do not compare favorably.

For this reason, the association president said, the increases were not a "complete justice" in the eyes of the teachers. She said those teachers at the top who had stayed here in spite of a large turnover were not being moved up salary-wise at the rate they should.

Dorothy Kenyon Hits Back

WASHINGTON — (AP) —

Dorothy Kenyon, cited as "Case No. 1" by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) in his charges of reds in the state department, declared today she has no connection "of any kind or character with communism or its adherents."

Miss Kenyon, a former American delegate to a United Nations commission and former New York City judge, made her denial from the witness chair of the senate committee investigating McCarthy's charges.

She was the first of those he had named to get a chance at a reply in the same forum.

Attired in a black dress and a black feather hat, the 62-year-old former jurist said her answer to McCarthy "is short, simple and direct."

"I am not, and never have been, a communist. I am not, and never have been, a fellow traveler. I am not, and never have been, a supporter of, a member of, or a sympathizer with any organization known to me to be, or suspected by me of being, controlled or dominated by the communists."

Dr. Gifford, Dentist Here 28 Years, Dies

Dr. Arthur Bedford Gifford, dentist here for 28 years, died Tuesday at his home, 1535 Sioux street.

Born in Lewistown, Dr. Gifford was a graduate of the University of Nebraska dental college and practiced in Scottsbluff until 1921 when he came to Lincoln.

He was a member of state and district dental associations. Dr. Gifford was the founder of the Lincoln Saddle club, which was organized at a meeting in his home.

Indian Wars Hero, 98, Dies

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The defense department was to be represented at funeral services today in South Dakota's Black Hills national cemetery for the country's oldest congressional medal of honor holder.

Rep. Francis Case (R-SD) said the department had advised him military representatives would be present to pay a last tribute to Charles Windolph, who died Saturday at the age of 98 in Lead, S. D.

Windolph was presented the nation's highest military award in 1878 for bravery at Little Big Horn, Mont., during the Indian Wars. He volunteered to attract attention away from others trying to rescue wounded comrades.

He had earned the right to a purple heart medal when he was wounded during the Indian wars, and at the time of Custer's last stand in 1876.

William J. Snyder, 22, 1320 G street, received cuts and bruises early Tuesday morning when the car he was driving collided with a parked car belonging to T. L. Wyatt, Scottsbluff, on O street between Thirty-second and Thirty-third.

Snyder told police he was driving west on O street when he was momentarily blinded by the lights of an oncoming car. He was treated at St. Elizabeth hospital and released.

Home Girl

By Carol Holliston

AP Newsfeatures

Chapter 28.

Celia's show opened in New York on the first Monday in May. It was a lavish production, it moved swiftly, it was tuneful, and Celia was definitely clever and ravishingly beautiful. Don had a box and his mother, Roger, Anne and the twins sat with him in it. Tony came in smiling during the intermission. His dark eyes were proud.

The boys shook hands gravely. Months of publicity had given them poise. Far too much for their grandfather, who had loved the way they jumped up and down when excited. Don introduced Tony to his mother, who bowed. Tony's voice was like honey.

"By the way, Anne, what did you think of the cute little dancer who did the specialty number in this act?"

Anne's lovely eyes were steady. "You mean Lenore?"

Don spoke quietly. "Both my mother and Anne know all about Lenore, Tony. And Roger knows too. Should I thank you for having convinced Lenore that she had no case at all and would be best advised to go on with her career?"

Tony chuckled. "I think I can claim credit for that."

The last act seemed very short and happy. When it was over they all went backstage to congratulate Celia.

Then it was all over and they went out to Mrs. Carey's car. The chauffeur saluted smartly and seated them, then drove off to drop Anne, her father, and the twins before taking his employers home. Roger offered refreshment but no one wanted anything. The twins gravely shook hands and thanked Mrs. Carey and Don for everything. They might easily have been twenty years old.

Anne felt as if a cold finger had touched her heart. They went into the house and it seemed very dark and still after the noise and glitter of the theater. Roger sat down heavily in his arm chair. "You boys must be very tired at this late hour. Why, it's after midnight."

"We don't mind staying up," they said in unison.

Anne patted their heads. "I bet you miss your dogs. And they miss you. We'll have to be watching for them all day tomorrow."

They nodded without special interest. Anne felt a lump in her throat.

She desperately posed her really important question.

"You are glad to be home again with grandfather and me, aren't you?"

"Yes. We're very happy."

They said it but they most certainly didn't sound it. This was going to be far worse than she had thought.

Anne tried again. "Want Anne to put you to bed?"

They shook their heads in unison. "We can do everything ourselves."

They got up and said good night with little bows. Anne kissed them, since they didn't offer to kiss her.

"Want me to come tuck you in very soon?"

"We don't need anything. We go right to sleep."

She held them back. "Aren't you forgetting to kiss grandfather?"

They kissed him dutifully and walked out sedately hand in hand. "Father, did Celia tell you what she is going to do with the boys after I am married?"

He turned away from her. "I don't know how to tell you."

"That's simple enough. I'm not afraid. More publicity."

"Not that. Her agent has decided that angle is worked out, as she puts it. From now on she is to be as young and glamorous as possible, so the children are not to be in the picture at all. Since she can't actually lose them somewhere, she has made arrangements for them. She told me so bluntly."

Anne stared at him. "I don't understand. You can't mean she would put them into a children's home."

"Yes."

"But that's madness. She robbed them of their Christmas and she has crushed their spirits now, but we can soon bring them to life again. I know we can. Tomorrow the dogs will be here and—"

"That's another thing, Anne. She returned the dogs to Don. They aren't coming here at all."

"Is she altogether crazy, Father?"

"Not altogether. She has a practical side. She can put the boys into a school."

"No! No! They are too young for that. They need love and affection. They need a home. We gave them a happy home here. We can give it to them again. Why can't she let them stay here with us?"

He shrugged wearily. "There are very good schools for young boys, Anne. I shall make it my business to find one for them. You needn't worry your head about it."

"You mean Celia doesn't intend to worry. The children have served their purpose, so she doesn't need them any more and dumps them anywhere that they won't bother her until she needs them the next time."

He drew a slow breath. "I'm afraid three won't be any next time, Anne. She told me bluntly she just isn't maternal. She said somebody might want to adopt them."

"Good Heaven!" Anne cried to steady herself. "Why didn't you tell me before?"

"She only brought them this afternoon."

"Why didn't you make her tell me how utterly heartless she is?"

"Would that have helped, Anne? You would have quarrelled and she would have taken them away. She won't have them with me. She knows Mary is giving up work after your wedding. I suppose she's right. But we have a few days to think anyway."

Anne began to laugh softly, deep in her throat. She caressed his cheek.

"We don't need to think at all. The children's home is here with us. We shall turn them into laughing children again."

An "E" For Effort

Councilwoman Fern Hubbard Orme should have an "E" for effort in her attempt to improve local housing conditions, although it is equally clear that she either has thought too much or too little on the inherent problems involved in the council's rejection of a public housing program for Lincoln.

On the basis of her argument for a "self-help" housing plan, Mrs. Orme blithely ignores the problem which actually confronts a lot of fine people in the low-income brackets. It is the simple question of what to use for money. They haven't the money to make an initial payment on a lot, even a lot costing as little as $100, the funds to purchase materials which they themselves, under her plan, would shape into homes. Then there is the matter of paving, and of sewer and water connections, matters that cannot be brushed aside in any individual's plan for a permanent home in which to live.

If Mrs. Orme, or any other individual, or group of individuals, has the answer to housing in Lincoln, fine and good; the more, the merrier. The need exists, and while it is easy to overbuild, there is no pressing danger at this time that facilities which will fit the pocketbooks of low-income group families, are being overdone. There are times when it would appear that Mrs. Orme's argument for her pet project is the very best evidence that much of the discussion over housing only proves that the problem itself is not understood.

Nebraska Small Town

The "Old Man of the Sutton News" (a name he coined for himself) came up in last week's issue with one of the most provocative stories published in the Nebraska weekly press. He dug up the population figures for ten towns in Clay county, in most instances covering a 40-year period, starting in 1910. Without a single exception, each of these ten fine communities has shown a loss in population, not drastic, but nevertheless, consistently a declining population at the end of each decade. It is a trend, we believe, that will be found in every state—the large getting larger, the small getting smaller. Yet, these small towns are important, and no thoughtful individual can observe a continuing loss in population without pangs of regret. That small town is a good place in which to live, and it is productive of a fine brand of American citizenship.

Abandoning The Rails

It was in the late 'nineties and the early years of the present century when much of the mileage of Nebraska's branch railroads was constructed. Hundreds of miles of ties and steels were laid to link towns and to provide marketing facilities. Now each year, substantial parts of this transportation system are being abandoned. The North Western said it emphatically in red figures in support of its application to discontinue service on the Scribner-Oakdale branch, stretch of 114 miles of right-of-way. In a 5-year period from 1944

ONE LIFE TO LIVE

That was a wonderfully refreshing view, presented by a very remarkable Nebraska woman. Mrs. Jennie Salmon, who celebrated her ninetieth birthday at the beginning of the week. And the best thing about it was that Mrs. Salmon, looking back over nearly a century of hard work, sacrifice, and industry, said that if she had her life to live over again, she would do just about as she has done.

Very few of us, no matter how much satisfaction has come to us, succeed in acquiring the serenity reflected in that statement. As a child, a World-Herald staff member reports, Mrs. Salmon lost a leg from infection. As a homesteader's wife, she became acquainted with poverty. As a mother, she was widowed with four children. And what was the answer to all of those misfortunes and hardships which ride so heavily? "Where things weren't good, I made them good," Mrs. Salmon said.

In the present troubled world, one lifelong habit which she followed sticks out like a sore thumb.

"I've always paid cash. Spending what you haven't got is bad business."

No debt or taxes ever piled up against the 328-acre farm which has been Mrs. Salmon's home, where she and her family have raised small grain and livestock. It simply meant that in good times and bad—in drought, depression, or boom—one rule dominated her thinking, one that was to pay cash at the time of purchase. It may have added years to a life, rich in its longevity, its freedom from regret. She didn't worry about debt because she never plunged herself into debt. She didn't spend sleepless nights or anxious days wondering how a bill would be met because she didn't run bills. She was, in short, at all times the complete master of her own life, because she planned it that way and lived it according to her plan.

It is not always possible, thousands of peothrough 1949, it lost $287,751. No business can pay out more than it takes in indefinitely but every branch abandonment brings regret and if continued, means that scores of Nebraska communities will look wholly to the highways for transportation with other points. We, for one, do not like the thought of it. One of the qualities of strength in America has been a magnificent rail transportation system; one of the weaknesses of backward countries is the lack of it.

Hopelessly Outclassed

A good many Nebraskans looked upon the unsmiling countenance of First Nebraska District Congressman Carl Curtis, of Minden. Mr. Curtis is a featured performer in earnestly pleading for repeal of the theatrical admissions tax.

The motion picture industry has been sick, if current reports are to be believed. Its campaign to wipe out the tax on theater tickets can be understood, because it believes that the tax may be the difference between capacity houses and audiences falling short of filling the seats in the theaters. Whether elimination of the tax on tickets is the tonic which will provide new life for the movies, is anybody's guess; possibly their current troubles may be something more serious. But as a member of the House subcommittee, Mr. Curtis has "gone Hollywood," enlisted in the campaign to abolish theater admission taxes, and in an election year, can congratulate himself that he is being seen and heard by thousands.

Shortly, Senator Hugh Butler, who fails to get the headlines, and is quiet as a church mouse alongside his more volatile, vocal colleague, Senator Wherry, will have his day if and when the Alaskan and Hawaiian statehood bills reach the senate, which is unlikely. These Nebraskans in the senate and house are entitled to a little bit of sympathy. They have small chance with Senator Wherry. They are outtalked, outscored, and outdone every day in the week.

We do not know whether that is good or bad.

A friend in Washington sent a copy of the editorial page of The Washington Post, which was addressing itself rather severely to Nebraska's problem child, Senator Wherry.

Under the heading "Pettifoggery," The Post had this to say about the junior Nebraskan:

"Senator Wherry has often demonstrated his willingness to throw any kind of mud that serves a partisan purpose, but his attack upon Secretary Acheson because of the latter's request for the deportation of Valentin Gubichev seems to set a new record in pettiness. While ignoring the most pertinent facts in the case, Mr. Wherry accuses the secretary of state and attorney general of 'conspiring' in order to free a Russian spy and appease Russia. The senator undoubtedly knows that he is talking nonsense. Gubichev is being deported for the simple reason that the United States does not wish to give the Soviet Union a pretext for abusing American citizens and United Nations personnel who have been or may be arrested behind the iron curtain. . . . Nothing would be gained from locking Gubichev in an American prison, and a great deal might be lost. Unquestionably, Moscow propaganda will distort the incident, as they do everything else. But we doubt that this propaganda will be half as valuable to them as the ruthless partisan attack that Senator Wherry and some of his colleagues have launched against the director of our foreign policy because he has followed the dictates of common sense."

We think The Post is most unfair to Senator Wherry. It credits him with knowing better. We doubt it. We are convinced that he is utterly sincere, utterly honest in his expression of outrage . . . and utterly hopeless in discussion of American foreign policy on so many occasions.

Carney's Windbreak

A Sutton banker, S. G. Carney, has an excellent formula for the development of an attractive, effective windbreak, according to the Sutton News. Four years ago, he found a clump of tiny cedar trees, most of them not over two feet in height, which he bought for an average of seven cents per tree, part of the bargain being that he dig them and transplant them himself. All but five survived. Now he has over 80 cedars, well-rotted, flourishing, and promising to become a valuable grove. It isn't surprising that Mr. Carney believes a great many farmers could profit by planting cedars. They are a fine tree, ornamental as well as useful as a windbreak.

California Wolf Call

Arch Jarrell, in the Grand Island Independent: "A coyote walking down a Los Angeles street was captured and sent to a zoo. The coyote was careless in not learning the Los Angeles wolf call, which would have made it safe from molestation."

MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The air force is now designing a supersonic B-36 that will be able to accomplish what hitherto was considered the impossible—a nonstop flight to Russia and back at the speed of sound. This may be one answer to the debate over the super air-plane carrier. The navy has contended that U. S. bombers would fly so slowly that they could be knocked down by enemy fighter planes. The navy urged a floating airplane base.

What this new bomber means, however, is that the air force will now be able to make hit-and-run attacks against Russia at tremendous speeds from home bases in the United States. For example, a squadron of supersonic B-36's, based in Maine could fly half way around the world, rain atomic bombs on Moscow, return home in less than 10 hours.

The plan, still on the drawing boards, is to streamline the present B-36 by giving it swept-back wings and a turbo-prop engine. Most important of all, however, will be a supersonic propeller, already developed by air force technicians. Hitherto only jet planes have been able to fly faster than sound. But the new propeller will permit propeller-driven planes to fly at that speed also.

Present trouble with supersonic jet planes is that their range is limited. However, the propeller-powered B-36 now has a range of 10,000 miles, and addition of the new supersonic propeller will give it a speed faster than sound.

Last year, likeable young Senator Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin asked some friends for advice on what he could do to insure his reelection in 1953. He wanted to start early, he confided, to build a record that would make certain his return to the senate.

One friend urged that he push the St. Lawrence seaway which would benefit the Great Lakes and bring new business to Wisconsin. It was also urged that he work for closer industrial co-operation between neighboring Canada and the Great Lakes states. Finally it was suggested that any senator who consistently attacked com-

WASHINGTON—In England, in some of the older mines, they still use pit ponies to haul the cars from the mining face where the men are digging to the shaft where the cars are carried up to the surface. This old-fashioned method is being phased out, but in some places, it may be a long time before it is completely abandoned.

Visiting one of these older mines some years ago, I was told that when the pit ponies are taken up for a bit of sun and grass, they resist strenuously this radical innovation. Then, after they've had a few hours of freedom and a little sunlight, it takes a half dozen men to subdue each rebel and get it down into the mine again.

That's just about the way I'm feeling at this moment. I sat on the Florida shore for a few days in the brilliant sun. I did practically nothing but watch the breakers roll in, content to wait for that moment of shattering beauty when the wave breaks into crystal and the white shards of foam roll up on the beach.

I can feel the muck of Washington closing in around me and I'm kicking and fighting as we descend the mine shaft. I know that in time I'll be perfectly accustomed again to the dim light of this other world. It will probably come to seem the normal thing once more.

Maybe it's because I've had a brief time in another kind of light that the encircling gloom appears to be deeper in hue than even in the immediate past. It hangs like a solid substance over this quarrelsome capital.

As though to escape it, the president has gone off to Florida and I hope he gets all possible benefit from his brief excursion out of the mine shaft and into the sun. But he has one handicap, it seems to me, and that is that to a considerable degree he carries his own atmosphere about with him. One of the remarkable things

These men and others like them seem to distrust freedom. They seem to distrust the democratic process itself. They behave as though they were motivated by panic fear. I'm sure that they believe righteously that they are saving the nation from terrible

By DON GILLEN

Meetings scheduled for this week include:

Lincoln Collectors Club, March 17;

University Place Stamp Club, March 17;

Society of Philatelic Nebraskans, March 24.

One of the best ways to start a collection, if you can afford it, is by traveling through various countries and buying the stamps as you go along.

Not always practicable, this method, however, assures an interest in a collection that otherwise couldn't be had.

Dr. C. Roy Miller, one of Lincoln's oldest collectors, traveled quite extensively through the British West Indies and through that travel picked up a huge collection of B. W. I. stamps.

In fact, he has possibly the finest collection of these island stamps in the city. Most, but not all, of the island collections are as complete as it is possible to get them.

Stamps from Trinidad and Tobago, before their consolidation, and those from St. Kitts and Nevis before their consolidation, and stamps from each after their consolidation are among the hundreds in the collection.

Most of the stamps are manufactured along the same general features as far as engraving and reproduction, but, quite naturally, have the different names of islands appearing on them.

But, this huge grouping of West Indies stamps by no means comprises all of Dr. Miller's collection. In fact, it is only about a fifth of his gathering.

Dr. Miller's stamps date back to the pre-stamp period. One of his letters (not addressed to him) bears the date of 1824. Two others have 1840 and 1849 postmarks. But they have no stamps. One letter is canceled with a pony express station mark.

Many of his stamps are from series in the latter half of the nineteenth century. He has Cuban envelopes, newspaper wrappers and post cards from 1899. Hawaiian issues date from 1864, though official issues didn't start until 1896.

The doctor's collection from the Danish West Indies, starting in 1855, is practically complete, except for some very rare issues. His Spanish Puerto stamps started in 1874.

One of the interesting parts of his collection is a fine gathering of coil pairs of the presidential series of 1923. He has most of these, both vertical and horizontal pairs, including some rather rare ones.

Dr. Miller's topical collection of ships will be discussed at a later date. It is much too large to be included with the rest of his collection.

Did you know that: The stamp commemorating the Gettysburg address has a picture of Abe Lincoln on it copied from the statue on the west side of Nebraska's state capital. . . . In Dr. Miller's collection: the signature of Thaddeus Stevens and an invitation to impeachment proceedings of President Andrew Johnson.

Bob Palmer says catalog price doesn't mean you can sell all the stamps you have at catalog list prices. . . . It works both ways—you can't always sell for list price nor can you always buy for list prices. . . . Speculation isn't found in the collector. . . . He who buys hundreds or even thousands of dollars worth of stamps, hoping they will become valuable, isn't to be considered a true philatelist. . . . though he often makes rare unused issues obtainable. . . . Elmer Magee specializes in issues of Scandinavian countries. . . . Possibly the first love of Glenn Lovell is his collection of pre-canceled from Nebraska towns. . . . Most of these are locals. . . . Dr. Miller has been a collector for 55 years. . . . He attended the Sons of Philately convention at Gettysburg in 1896. . . .

To young collectors: start simply and with a few stamps. . . . Like anything else, the harder stamps are to come by, the more value and pride you take in them. . . . A bill in congress is proposing an issue commemorating Gen. John J. Pershing. . . . Bone of contention is place of first day issue. . . . Either here in Lincoln or in Missouri, his birthplace. . . . John Van Fleet's collection of first-day covers stemmed from an envelope he saved bearing the postmark date of the birth of his son. . . . We moderns aren't the only ones with tax troubles. . . . C. B. Palmer has a letter addressed to the Clay county treasurer some years back. . . . The writer, who didn't have to fool with complicated forms, complained that if taxes were as high as he heard, they would be "four times as much as we ever paid." . . . The county treasurer endorsed on the bottom the amount of tax—$44.90 for property valued at $2,305. . . . Four times as much as the property owner ever paid.

accepted as prophet and pioneer in a new era for American agriculture. In reality, many of the things Mr. Bromfield is saying are truths which we farmers have known and nurtured through many years. We have been, and are, working steadily and patiently toward some of the ends which he so urgently recommends. Great reforms cannot be accomplished overnight. There is no one with a magic wand who can revolutionize farm practices pronto. Nearly every farmer of my acquaintance is seeking new and better ways of doing things, and a higher rate of production.

Allan Kline, president of American Farm Bureau, speaking at Des Moines, Iowa, on February 18, said, "We are convinced that there is no prosperity for farmers unless they earn it; and a high standard of agriculture depends on high production for each farmer."

Intelligent farmers all know that we must eventually work out a self-liquidating plan to take the place of present makeshift expedients for keeping prices on a profitable keel. However, we cannot, like Mr. Bromfield, step blithely over such factors as transportation and the lack of

Livestock Weight Losses Big In Some Blizzard Areas

Boyd County Toll Higher Than In '49

Winds Damaged Wheat In Dry, Western Areas

In at least one Nebraska county, more livestock were lost in last week's hurricane-blizzard "than all losses in all of last year's blizzards."

The state-federal division of agricultural statistics Tuesday relayed that report from its Boyd county correspondent.

"All stock suffered big weight losses, although the storm was of short duration," the correspondent wrote.

The comments were contained in a review of livestock losses and crop damage from the March 7 storm as released Tuesday by the state-federal agency.

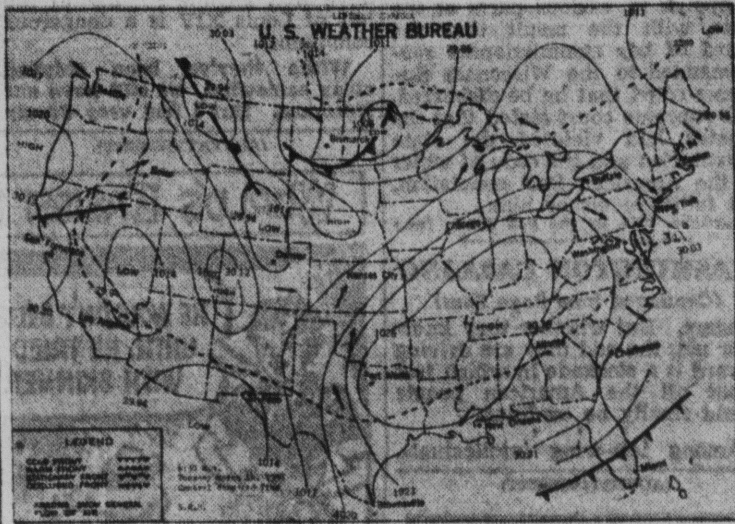

From the wheat country, there was this comment from Cheyenne county,

"Winter wheat, though certainly not killed, was injured some by the extreme winds."

Other reports from western counties included:

Garden—"High winds x x x damaged the wheat."

Sheridan—"Winter wheat was very dry and high winds caused WEATHER BUREAU SUMMARY—Movement of the eastern storm to the Atlantic was attended by moderate to heavy rains in the southeastern states and the Appalachian mountain region and light to moderate rain and snow in New York and Pennsylvania since early Monday, followed by fair and colder Tuesday. Freezing temperatures extended to interior sections of the Gulf states while rising temperatures and sunny skies prevailed in the northern plains states and the Rocky mountain region. Moist air from the Pacific ocean brought light rainfall to Washington and Oregon. Temperatures in the northern states early Tuesday ranged from slightly above zero near the northern border to around 20 in the middle Mississippi and Ohio valleys.

quite a bit of soil erosion and damage to wheat."

Sioux—"Considerable wind erosion x x x"

The report from Kimball was more hopeful: "High winds Monday and Tuesday probably didn't hurt the wheat crop. Some snow fell then but it didn't do any good

Crop Shift Due To Corn Allotments

More Oats, Barley Fields Predicted

The state-federal bureau of agricultural statistics said Tuesday corn allotments are bringing shifts in Nebraska crops.

The weekly report said oats and barley are expected to take up considerable of the acreage that might have gone into corn.

But sorghum, grass and alfalfa also bid for an increase, while in western Nebraska soybeans, sugar beets and safflower are getting a play.

Bean Acreage Down. In western Nebraska the dry edible bean acreage is down about 23,000 acres. The potato allotment is down very little.

Last week's inclement weather stopped short farm work started earlier under clear skies.

Some oats have been planted in southern counties from Thayer eastward to Richardson and Nemaha. Some red clover also has been seeded.

The surplus of farm labor is decreasing.

Precipitation throughout the state for the week ending Monday included:

Grand Island .. 49 Lincoln .. 12 Norfolk .. 69 Omaha .. 18 Central Division.

Purcell .. 31 North Platte .. 32 Valentine .. 23 Western Division.

Chadron .. 12 Hayes Center .. 06 Scottsbluff .. 13 Sidney .. 11

Buildings, windmills, etc., is hard to estimate, but it does not amount to a considerable item for the county."

Phelps—"Blizzard of March 7 exceptionally severe, but very little livestock loss. Snow was mostly piled up in drifts and of little value to crops."

Fillmore—"Wind erosion occurred on bare fields and plowed fields with little or no vegetative cover."

Gage—"Storm moved a lot of soil off of fall-plowed fields and wheat fields."

Nemaha—"Some wheat fields in southwest part of county have soil drifts one to six inches deep at edges of fields."

Pawnee—"Lots of rough weather x x x but no serious damage."

Thayer—"Where there was a good growth of wheat, erosion was cut down considerably."

New, Younger Blood Needed In Plumbing Business—Killian

GRAND ISLAND, Neb.—(AP)—The vice-president of the National Association of Master Plumbers has urged members of the Nebraska Retail Plumbers association to prepare to bring new and younger blood into the business.

V. J. Killian told the opening session of the two-day convention here Monday that the average age of master plumbers in the United States is 58.

Killian also urged an increase of name dues from $7 a year to $10 a year.

Today, the state plumbers were scheduled to hear Wray M. Scott, vice-president of the National Association of Heating, Piping and Air Conditioning Contractors, and Gelder V. Lewis, an NAMP director.

Hopelessness Spirit Over Czechoslovakia, Gen. Wilbur Reveals

OMAHA —(AP)—Brig. Gen. William H. Wilbur told the Ad-Sell league here Monday night that a spirit of hopelessness pervades Czechoslovakia.

Even the church has submitted to communist domination, said the retired general, who recently spent some time studying conditions in Czechoslovakia and other European countries.

He said many Czechs have the attitude that "our only hope is another war."

In contrast, he declared, in western Germany a spirit of independence and enterprise is beginning to take hold despite many burdensome problems.

Olson, superintendent of the Nebraska Historical Society, will be principal speaker.

Sunday's program includes a breakfast, with Mrs. Tracy Van Camp, Buffalo county home agent, presiding, and discussion of flower arrangement by Mrs. O. L. Erickson, Kearney, and of consumer interest by Miss Margaret Spader of General Mills, Inc.

Miss Martha Artist, Omaha, president-elect of the home economics group, will preside at the closing luncheon. A style show will be one of the features.

DeWitt Group Seeks Surface For Highway

... Meet With Governor

Dr. H. D. Runty of DeWitt headed a delegation of 10 residents of that area who pleaded with Gov. Val Peterson Monday for inclusion of highway No. 83 from Wilber to the junction of No. 3 near Beatrice in the state plan for rigid surfaced roads.

"I don't agree with those who say the roads are good enough," Dr. Runty said. "Also, I would like to pay additional taxes in order to get better roads."

Representatives of the Peterson Manufacturing Co., which employs 120 persons at DeWitt, say the road has to be used daily by workers coming from Crete, Western, Wilber, Swanton, Beatrice and Wymore. They estimated that 1 per cent of their finished product is now moved from the factory by truck.

Bridges Dangerous. Narrow bridges on the highway have caused numerous accidents, it was explained. Frank Kobes, ex-mayor of Crete, who accompanied the delegation, laughingly told the governor that the road hazards are more serious than their effect on business and local travel.

"DeWitt is one of the best coon hunting areas in the state," Kobes explained. "Many of the coons for the annual American Legion coon feed come from there. You certainly wouldn't want to hamper us in that effort."

The governor was heard to mutter something about "cats" but did agree that some maintenance work will be done on the road this year and surveys made as to whether it warrants being placed in the state program for further development.

U. S. 83.

Reconstruction of U. S. 83 from Valentine north to the state line was urged by a delegation headed by Arch Mullin of Valentine and Sen. Don Hanna. The delegation sought definite word on the road location because of improvements being made across the line in South Dakota.

The governor pointed out that more than $600,000 has been spent on this highway since he has been in office and that plans call for completion of the north-south highway as rapidly as funds are available.

The governor told the delegations of the tremendous cost being imposed on the state by the referendum petitions filed through activities of the oil interests, truckers and farm groups. He said the huge expense of the election did not seem warranted just to stop the increased gas tax for 57 days.

The governor pointed out that the legislature would be in session right after the election and that the people could send senators with instructions to repeal the highway bills if they do not like them.

THAT—It is unlawful for any person except in case of an accident or emergency to stop any vehicle within any street intersection or at any alley entrance or in such location as to obstruct any street crossing, cross-walk or alley entrance, or back of any other vehicle parked at the curb.

Mastication Is Topic Of Dental Society Lecture

The fifth round-table discussion on "The Masticatory Mechanism" was broadcast from Chicago Monday night to members of the Lincoln District Dental society at the Cornhusker hotel.

The discussion centered around three points:

1. The muscles, nerves and points of the teeth.
2. The growth of the jaws as related to the development of teeth and muscles and the use to which the jaw is put.
3. The correct open and closed position of the jaw and the proper distance between the chin and nose.

Those topics were then applied to the making of artificial teeth and the correction of irregularities of natural teeth.

Serving on the round-table were Dr. W. H. Kubacki, University of Illinois, moderator, Dr. Brodis, dean of college of dentistry, University of Illinois, Dr. J. R. Thompson, Northwestern university school of dentistry, Dr. R. R. Gillis, specialist in dental prosthesis, and Dr. R. W. Tench, formerly of New York university college of dentistry.

cratic brothers. Carp caught now in the ice-cold waters of the swift-flowing Missouri are edible, but less desirable in the warm waters of Oak Creek lake. To attempt to stock semi-stagnant ponds with game fish is a waste of good money. Long ago, I came to the conclusion that fishing in Oak Creek lake is a job, and no self-respecting angler cares to be seen struggling with a teeny-weeny three-inch bullhead at the end of fifteen dollars worth of tackle.

Why don't the game commissioners see that proper fish runways are provided at the dams in the Blue river? This river is an ideal catfish stream, and accessible to the average angler. It is illegal to dam up any running stream unless adequate fish runways are provided. As to gravel and paved roads, experience has taught one, "The rougher the road, the better the fishing."

Cost To Public.

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Since it is probable that the alcohol - substitution - for-gasoline question will come up before the state legislature, it is proper that the public should know of the economics involved.

"The Chemical Process Industries, 55 pp, 648-9, 1st ed., McGraw-Hill Book Co., Inc., New York (1945 by R. N. Shreve), cites the cost of making alcohol as compared to the cost of gasoline. We quote, "... the present cost of gasoline, exclusive of tax and distribution expense, is around 5 cents per gallon at the refineries and hence very much less than the cost of producing alcohol."

"The cost of alcohol is largely that of the raw alcohol is largely of 190-proof alcohol requires 2.5 gal. of molasses, or somewhat less than 1/2 bu. of corn." Shreve states that the approximate cost of 1 gal. of alcohol is 13 cents per gallon plus the cost of the raw material from which the alcohol is made. Also one gallon of alcohol has only 0.7 the fuel value of one gallon of gasoline.

It should be evident that any substitution of alcohol for gasoline or mixing of alcohol with gasoline is going to be paid for by the public.

Tolerance Is Topic Of Play At U. Of N.

"Home of the Brave," a three act play with an all male cast was presented to a near-capacity audience Monday night by the University Theater and the Nebraska Masquers to promote racial tolerance and better understanding in connection with the model UNESCO conference March 17 through March 24 at the University of Nebraska.

Joe Moore as Sergeant Mingo led the actors through scenes at a Pacific war base, the base hospital and a Jap-held island. Abe Katz played the part of Peter Coen, a Jewish soldier who became psychotic through persecution and a belief that he was "different" than other people. Katz also directed the play.

Through a series of flash-backs, Peter Coen told of the events which had led to the loss of the use of his legs, and was made to walk again by Capt. Harold Bitterger, an army psychoanalyst played ably by Bill Lane.

Not Different. The mental recovery of Coen was made possible only through the realization that he was not "different" than others—especially Sergeant Mingo.

Other players were: Michael Shanahan as Major Robinson, Dick Frech as Private Finch and Milt Hoffman as Corporal Everitt. "Home of the Brave," by Arthur Lavrents, was given in observance of national theater week and sponsored by the American National Theater and Academy and the Panel on Dramatic Arts of the National Commission for UNESCO.

return himself, while neither the brother or brother-in-law filed an income of more than $2,000.

Where they got the $18,000 nobody yet knows.

Joe also has a record which has aroused comment for granting "quickie" divorces for his political friends or their clients.

In Wisconsin, divorces are not supposed to be filed in two separate jurisdictions. But when McCarthy was a judge in Appleton, Wis., his political friends, Congressmen Kersten and Arlo McKinnon, suddenly brought the divorce case of Kordas vs. Kordas before him, even though it was already filed in Milwaukee. They got almost immediate action. The complaint was filed on Sept. 3, 1946, and the divorce was granted Sept. 5.

The two attorneys, Kersten and McKinnon, both contributed to McCarthy's political campaign.

McCarthy also granted divorces at about that time to two other Milwaukee residents, Chester J. Roberts and Eileen Roberts, who were represented by Max Litow, a prominent republican who also contributed to McCarthy's campaign.

dangers. But whether they know it or not, the end they are driving toward is a stockade in which just about all the American people would finally be confined.

Among left-wing intellectuals, particularly those who flirted with communism, it is fashionable to say that all is over and America is already a police state. This is, of course, just as silly as the cries from the panic-stricken who believe that anyone slightly to the left of Louis XIV is a dangerous communist.

While they've been chipped away somewhat, we still have our freedoms. But I feel very deeply that if we go on taking them so lightly for granted and permitting the chipping process to continue, we shall not have them for long. The great heritage out of the American past can be destroyed by frightened and mis-trustful men of small and warped minds. In my opinion, it must be the conscious responsibility of every American citizen today to defend those rights.

WORLD'S EASIEST RECIPE..... by George

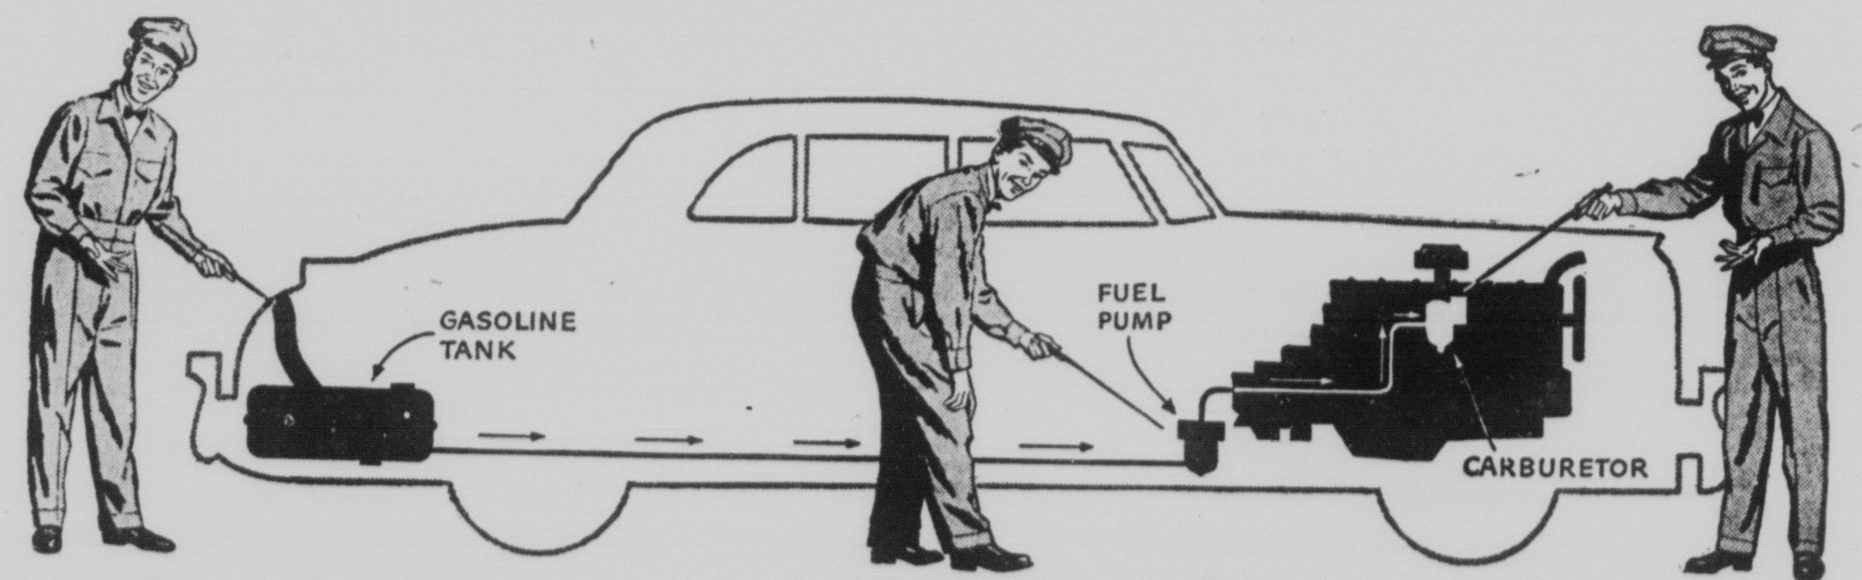

JUST BOIL MACARONI (or spaghetti or egg noodles), drain, add salt and butter. That's all! Try this "World's Easiest Recipe" with ordinary macaroni. Then try it with Skinner's! That's the way you can actually TASTE the big difference between ordinary macaroni, spaghetti or noodles and Skinner's.

"UNTIL HE TASTED SKINNER'S," my husband wouldn't believe any macaroni or spaghetti could be good with just salt and butter," said one wife. "Now he asks for two Skinner 1-dish dinners a week and I save about $6 every month on groceries."

CUT YOUR FOOD BILL by giving your family Skinner's. Don't ruin perfectly good recipes with cheap macaroni or spaghetti when Skinner's can turn that same recipe into a family favorite! Southern women know: Skinner's macaroni is the best macaroni money can buy!

SINCLAIR RESEARCH SOLVES 40-YEAR PROBLEM OF RUST AND CORROSION IN AUTO FUEL SYSTEMS

ANTI-RUST Chemical Now Blended into POWER-PACKED Sinclair Gasolines

Ever since the first automobile chugged down Main Street, car makers have been trying to lick the problem of rust and corrosion in gasoline tanks and fuel systems.

This problem is serious because water forms daily inside your gasoline tank when the warm, moist air above the gasoline condenses on the cooler metal walls. This water rusts and corrodes gasoline tanks and fuel systems. Rust and corrosion clog carburetor jets, and cause jerky performance, stalling, and costly repairs. Sinclair Research has at last solved this problem by developing an amazing chemical called RD-119—now blended into POWER-PACKED SINCLAIR GASOLINES.

This miracle chemical coats your gasoline tank and entire fuel system with an invisible, water-proof film that stops rust and corrosion.

Fill your tank with new Anti-Rust Sinclair H-C or Sinclair Ethyl Gasoline. Use it regularly for continued protection.

Sinclair Fuel Oil also contains RD-119

Iowa Trucker Released From Hospital Here

Robert Long, 22, Corning, Ia., was released Monday from Lincoln General hospital after suffering carbon monoxide poisoning.

Long was found unconscious in a Seward cabin camp Sunday along with his companion, Frederick Abbey, 22, also of Corning, Ia., who died from the gas.

Seward County Attorney Russell Soucek said a gas heater in the cabin had been set too high. Long was given artificial respiration before being taken to the Lincoln hospital.

Only 2,400 U.S. Women Listed In 'Who's Who'

WASHINGTON—(INS)—Every girl likes to feel a little bit important, but most of us will just have to count on our husbands or beaux for our delusions of grandeur.

The women's bureau of the labor department, at any rate, pointed out today that only 2,400 of the more than 50 million women in the United States rate a current listing in "Who's Who in America."

The bureau adds that lady authors and schoolmarm, between them, account for a tidy 45 per cent of the total, leaving the rest of the girls to fight it out among themselves.

More than half of the women chosen as biographees are from New York, California, Massachusetts, Illinois or the District of Columbia, the bureau has discovered.

Furthermore, a woman who makes the grade will probably find herself about 57 years old, better educated than the general feminine population and very likely childless.

In medieval Europe, girls usually married at 14; boys at 19.

Concrete Firm Files $23,119 Damage Suit

The Western Concrete Products company of Lincoln filed a $23,119 damage suit in District court Monday against the Ash Grove Lime and Portland Cement company, Wilmington, Del.

The local company charges it was shipped the wrong type of cement by the Delaware company, resulting in a loss in the amount named in the suit.

The petition alleges that an agreement was made between the two companies that if a substitution was made in a shipment, advance notice would be given.

Rail Deficit $287,751 For 1944 To 1949

Auditor Points Out At Albion Railway Hearing

ALBION, Neb. —(AP)—The Chicago and North Western railroad, seeking interstate commerce commission authority to discontinue its Scribner-Oakdale, Neb., branch, claims it lost $287,751 on the branch from 1944 through 1949.

That testimony was given at an ICC hearing here yesterday by D. K. Van Ingen, Chicago, assistant auditor of capital expenditures for the railroad.

Hearing Into Second Day.

The hearing on the C & NW's request to discontinue its so-called Albion branch continued here today.

Van Ingen said that during the 1944-1949 period the railroad's income on the branch was $2,183,656. In the same period, the total cost of operation was $2,481,407.

Under ICC rules, the railroad has to be prepared to support a claim of loss before it can file for abandonment.

Since the Albion branch is an interstate link, the interstate commerce commission is conducting the hearing. On hand from the state railway commission, which is participating, were Richard Larson and Harry C. King.

Van Ingen was on the stand most of the afternoon during the opening day of the hearing yesterday. He was questioned at length by Robert Van Pelt, Lincoln attorney representing those protesting abandonment.

The railroad auditor said that in 1945, its best year, the branch line's total revenue was $437,973. Last year, the revenue totaled $110,508.

On a typical day in 1944, Van Ingen said, it cost the railroad $81.84 to pay a crew to operate a freight from Scribner to Oakdale. Wages of the same crew were $129.91 last December.

Christoffel Resentenced To Prison

Ex-Labor Leader Convicted Of Lying To Investigators

... First Conviction Reversed By Supreme Court

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Harold Christoffel, former Milwaukee labor leader, was sentenced today to from two to six years in prison on a charge of lying to a congressional committee.

Christoffel was convicted last month for a second time on a perjury charge. A Federal court jury found he had lied when he denied under oath to the house labor committee that he had ever been a communist.

The sentence imposed today by Federal Judge F. Dickinson Letts was the same as Christoffel received after his first conviction in 1948.

The Supreme court threw out the first conviction.

Doubt Of A Quorum.
Judge Letts today sentenced Christoffel to two to six years on each of five counts, but ruled that the sentences be served concurrently.

In reversing Christoffel's first conviction the Supreme court held the government had not proved that a quorum, or at least 13, of the 25 members of the house committee were present when Christoffel testified before it on March 1, 1947.

At the second trial, the government produced testimony by 14 members of the committee that they were present. Defense Attorney O. John Rogge contended later in arguments that some of the congressmen perjured themselves in so testifying.

He Did Not Testify.
The committee at the time it questioned Christoffel was looking into communist influences in some labor unions.

Christoffel is a former president of Local 248, UAW-CIO, at the Milwaukee plant of Allis-Chalmers.

Government witnesses testified that he helped carry out communist plans in calling a three-month strike at the plant in the spring of 1941. The company was manufacturing parts for most American warships then under construction.

Christoffel did not testify at either of his trials.

One Man's Opinion

BY WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed by International News Serv.)
The sad case of a 2-year-old movie actress who has been unemployed for 26 weeks points up the failure of the capital list state to guarantee security to its wage earners.

Here is a taxpayer willing and able to work for her daily lollipop and now dependent on the $25 a week California provides to ease the strain of unemployment.

So many things could be done for her... John Lewis could organize her, Jimmy Roosevelt could make her a campaign issue, or if she cared to move abroad, she could be rehabilitated.

Certainly a condition cannot be permitted to continue under which a 2-year-old has nothing to look forward to but kindergarten.

This poor child took in $1,340 for three months' work last year... then idleness. Is this the best industry can do for its midgit minions?

No wonder thousands of Americans are turning to the left-headed for the welfare state in their baby buggies.

Mr. Jones, Meet The Master

By PETER MARSHALL

Note: In Monday's installment Peter Marshall was telling of Christ's last minutes on earth. "He saved others cannot He save himself," the scoffers shouted. Christ gave His answer.

They shouted until they were hoarse. The noise was so great that only a few of them standing near the cross heard what He said when His lips moved in prayer: "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

One of the thieves, drugged and half drunk, cried out to Jesus: "Can't You see how we suffer? If you are the Son of God, take us down from these crosses. Save us and Yourself."

Then a spasm of pain gripped him, and He began to curse and to swear, blaming Jesus for the pain. But the other turned his head, so that he could see Jesus, and he said to his companion:

"Dost thou not fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation, and we indeed justly, for we have broken their laws... but this man hath done nothing amiss."

Then he said to Jesus: "Remember me when Thou comest into Thy kingdom."

And Jesus, His face drawn with pain, but His voice still kind answered: "This very day when this pain is over, we shall be together... you and I... in Paradise."

And the man, comforted, set his lips to endure to the end. The sun rose higher and higher. Time oozed out like the blood that dripped from the Cross...

Jesus opened His eyes and saw His mother standing there, and John beside her. He called out the name of John, who came closer, and Jesus said: "You will take care of her, John?"... and John, choked with tears, put his arm around the shoulders of Mary.

Jesus said to His mother: "He will be your son."

His lips were parched, and He spoke with difficulty. He moved His head uneasily against the hard wood of the Cross, as a sick man moves his head on a hot pillow.

The women beneath the Cross stood praying for Jesus and for the thieves. The centurion was silent, although every now and then he would look up at Jesus with a strange look on his face.

The soldiers were silent, too. Their gambling was done. They had won... and lost.

Suddenly Jesus opened His eyes and gave a loud cry. The gladness in His voice startled all who heard it, for it sounded like a shout of victory: "It is finished. Father, into Thy hands I commit My spirit."

And with that cry He died. Yes, "He saved others: Himself He cannot save!" But they were wrong, as well as right.

Could He not have saved Himself? He might have compromised with the priests—made a bargain with the Caiaphas, talked things over with Pilate.

He might have made His kingdom political instead of spiritual. He might have chosen the expedient rather than the right.

As He Himself reminded Peter, He might have called upon 12 legions of angels to rescue Him and to show His great power.

He might have withstood the plottings and devices of wicked men. Yes, He might have saved Himself. He had the power; but then He would never have been our Saviour!

For no man can save himself who saves another. The acorn cannot save itself, if it is to bud a tree.

The soldier cannot save himself, if he is to save his country. Nor can the Shepherd save Himself, if He would save His sheep.

Christ is the Good Shepherd, and hence, when He would consummate the great salvation, there was no other way to save us than to lay down His life for our salvation.

Butler Opposes Bean Tariff Cut

"If the tariff is reduced on beans, I shall have to conclude that this administration does not want its farm program to work," Sen. Hugh Butler (R.-Neb.) declared in a special appearance before the committee for reciprocity information here this week.

The committee is considering a new trade agreement with Chile which would permit more beans to be brought into this country from abroad.

"There is no reasonable sense in one's self, but to give one's self for the one loved."

And He loved us and gave Himself for us. Tomorrow: The Grave in the Garden.

buying something when you already have too much," the senator said. "There is already a surplus of about five and one-half million bags of dry edible beans in this country, and the commodity credit corporation has invested tremendous sums of money in holding these beans off the market to prevent a price collapse."

"Altogether, the contradiction between our foreign trade and agricultural policies has resulted in a complete mess. We have reduced the duty on potatoes and maintained a price support program for domestic potatoes, and, as a result, Canadian potatoes have come in by the shipload to add to our surplus," the senator continued. We have also done the same thing with eggs and with numerous grains such as oats and barley, he pointed out.

"In each case, these products were not brought in because we needed them," he emphasized. "They were brought in because the reciprocal trade agreements program has destroyed the means of keeping them out."

2 Missing Engineers Are Found

1 Dead, 1 Suffering From Exposure After Being Lost In Snow

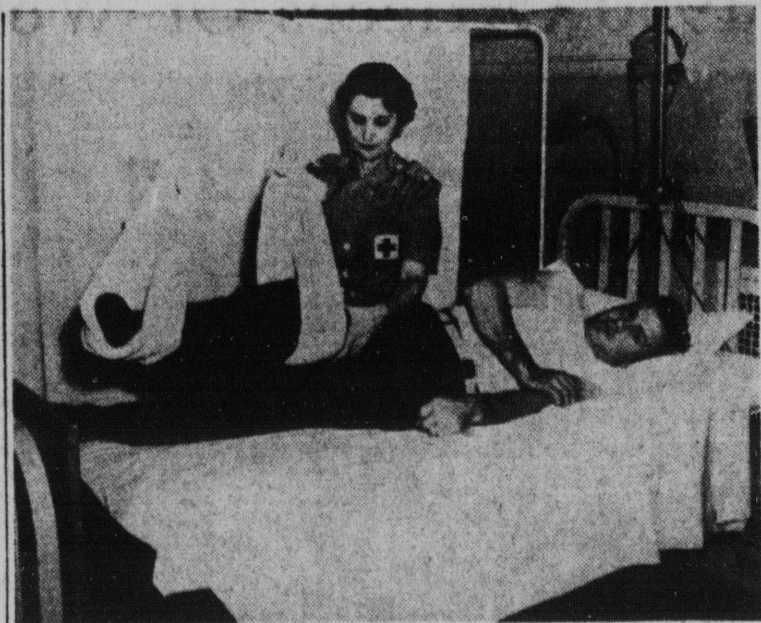

TULELAKE, Calif. (INS)—Two missing U. S. government engineers, one frozen to death and the other prostrated with exposure, were discovered today to have been found in the snowy wilds of California's remote north-east corner at a deserted shack only a quarter of a mile from a well-stocked camp shelter.

The men, both employees of the federal reclamation bureau, had been lost for three days without food or warm clothing before they were located by search parties yesterday in an abandoned sheepherder's cabin in the forested Modoc county hills southeast of Tulelake.

Found dead from exposure and exhaustion was A. B. Ribbeck, 38, head of the reclamation bureau's engineering office at Sacramento, Calif. Lying beside him, frost-bitten and almost unconscious, was his companion, Rudy Simonson, 32, of Weed, Calif.

Clad only in light city clothes and wearing overalls on their feet, the two men had struggled for at least 14 miles over deep snow in zero weather after their car broke down while on an inspection tour of the Klamath basin.

Chancellor Says Red Cross Is Symbol Humanitarian Concern

Chancellor Carl C. Bracy, Nebraska Wesleyan university, pointed to the Red Cross as "a symbol of our humanitarian concern for people," at the Red Cross campaign rally at the Cornhusker hotel Monday night. The Lancaster county goal this year is $59,676.

He summed up a short history of the organization with the statement, "the Red Cross stands for millions of men, women and young people who are volunteers in 3,745 chapters scattered across the country and dedicated to the improving of the welfare of their communities."

Dr. Bracy cited the work done by the group during the blizzard of last year and said, "to victims in disaster areas, the Red Cross means help is come."

President Quoted. Quoting President Truman, the chancellor said, "many times a year the people turn to the Red Cross. Once a year the Red Cross turns to the people."

Robert A. Dobson, chairman, presided at the rally. The campaign leaders, Howard S. Wilson, national board of governors of American Red Cross, Carl L. Junge, chapter vice chairman and Richard Joyce, campaign advisory committee, were introduced.

Division leaders and their helpers were presented and a general review of the coming week's work,

Doctors Will Keep Professions Apart Despite Marriage

OMAHA (AP)—Two Omaha doctors were embarked today on a joint career that will not include the joint practice of medicine.

After their marriage Sunday, Dr. Maurice M. Steinberg, 39, and Dr. Muriel Frank, 30, announced they would keep their professional lives separate.

Each will continue his own office and "we just won't mix professionally," said Dr. Steinberg. Dr. Steinberg is a urologist and Dr. Frank an anesthesiologist.

Report Made On Denver Agencies Of Government

City officials who made the week-end expenses-paid trip to Denver to inspect the mile-high city's drive-in bank setup, made no report to the city council Monday.

Acting Mayor Tom Pansing did report on progress of certain Denver governing agencies. He made special note of the city's planning and traffic engineering bodies.

Regarding Denver's federal housing project Pansing commented: "It was very interesting." Pansing voted against a federal low-rent housing project for Lincoln.

A quick survey of Denver papers, however, gave a different impression. Headlined The Denver Post, below a three-column picture of Pansing, Chief of Police Joe Carroll and National Bank of Commerce President Byron Dunn: "Nebraskans Scan Denver Setup for Tip on Good City Government."

given by L. W. Horne, campaign director.

Rev. John D. Clyde gave the invocation. Four hundred and fifty attended the rally.

Speech Contest Won By Mercedes Ames

Mercedes Ames won first place in the final Toastmistress contest Monday night at the Y.M.C.A. with her topic, "One God."

Second place went to Ann Gustavson, speaking on "Progress Through Enlightenment." Other finalists and their topics were Lois Hilmyer, "The Not So Humble Female," and Margaret Smith, "From Bloomers to Shorts."

Miss Ames will represent Lincoln in the Toastmistress's council contest to be held at Ames, Ia., later this month.

Evelyn Schlentz, last year's winner, awarded a traveling plaque to Miss Ames.

Judges for the contest were Dr. Winton Beaven, Cecil F. Parker, Harold E. Sorenson, Glen B. Railsback and C. W. Lemont. Berenice Demuth presided at the meeting.

Elderly Woman Hurt In Alliance Crash

BRIDGEPORT, Neb. (AP)—Mrs. Nettie Mae Winegar, 83, of Alliance, injured in an auto accident Sunday, was in fair condition in a hospital last night.

The safety patrol said Mrs. Winegar was injured when a car driven by her son, Joseph Winegar, 57, Alliance, left the road and crashed into a fence. Winegar and two others were not injured.

Science takes greatest step in Infant Skin Care

THE NEW FORMULA

JOHNSON'S BABY LOTION

Hospital-proved the most effective preparation known to...

PREVENT IMPETIGO

PREVENT RAW BUTTOCKS

PREVENT DIAPER RASH

PREVENT HEAT RASH

WHEN USED EVERY DAY FOR ROUTINE BABY SKIN CARE!

Miraculous Results from tests on 10,000 Baby Days in 8 Leading Hospitals!

Major Impetigo Epidemic Stopped by Johnson's Baby Lotion!

Usual skin care methods show high irritation. New Johnson's Baby Lotion was tested against generally accepted methods of treatment in 8 leading American hospitals. With techniques in common use, as high as 55% of the babies observed suffered from one or more of the four major skin afflictions.

Irritations reach new low with Lotion care. Among babies given routine skin care with new Johnson's Baby Lotion, the over-all incidence of skin irritations of all kinds was less than 2%! Doctors supervising the tests were especially impressed that Lotion was so effective in preventing "excortiated buttocks"—raw buttocks sores common among infants.

Impetigo Epidemic rages. "Impetigo" is a fear-some word in hospital nurseries. Once started, it spreads like wildfire, covering babies' skins with raw, itching sores. Such was the case in a large Pennsylvania Hospital. Standard methods of treatment did not check the epidemic, which raged for 4 months. As high as 70% of the babies suffered, Impetigo Epidemic Halted! At that point, treatment with new Johnson's Baby Lotion was begun, using half the babies as test subjects. The other half were continued on standard treatment. So successful was the Lotion treatment in preventing and curing impetigo that all babies were then given that care, and within a week the epidemic was over.

How To Protect Your Baby with Johnson's Baby Lotion

Use daily all over baby's body, after his bath. Apply a few velvety drops of Lotion and smooth on carefully, paying special attention to the creases. No more need you worry about the threat of impetigo. No more need your baby whimper and cry from the common miseries of heat rash!

Apply at every diaper change. New Johnson's Baby Lotion will prevent raw buttocks, diaper rash. Not only that—it prevents the familiar unpleasant "ammonia diaper" odor, keeps your nursery smelling fresh and clean. Gives lasting protection, from one diaper change to the next!

JOHNSON'S BABY LOTION

Johnson & Johnson

While Johnson's Baby Lotion has been developed primarily for infant use, and its amazing effectiveness fully authenticated, an interesting question has arisen: Is Johnson's Baby Lotion effective in the treatment of such annoying adult skin conditions as acne and eczema? Doctors who worked with us during the development and testing of Johnson's Baby Lotion have observed promising indications. But frankly, as adequate clinical data are not yet available, we are unwilling to make such claims for Johnson's Baby Lotion's effectiveness against adult skin conditions as we can positively make in the case of infants.

Living In The Tradition Of Beautiful Heirlooms

We go back to the middle and the last half of the Eighteenth century today, showing a pair of Yorkshire owls, and some Staffordshire.

The owls that you see at the right in the picture, are Leeds owl banks. They belong to the last half of the Eighteenth century when banks performed a very definite function in family life. They were used for all sorts of economy—to hold the rent (the collection of which occurred sometimes yearly, or at even longer intervals), dowry, and other special funds. Being in pottery form the banks were intended to be broken when money was needed.

These two wise old owls escaped somehow or other, for which their owner, whose name we are not permitted to mention, is extremely grateful.

White salt glaze was used in modeling the owls, and their bodies are of red clay with the detail of the design incised through a coating of cream—thus the red ground shows through to mark the feather detail.

On the box at the left of the owls is a middle Eighteenth century punch pot, and is attributed to Weildon, maker of all sorts of fine ware among which the lead glaze with relief decoration, is outstanding. The block cutter, we are told, often developed a certain amount of originality and humor in his designs as evidenced in the black mask ornamenting the punch pot. The mask is a departure from the usual design contrived from heraldic birds, beasts and formal foliage, and found on the silver of the period. The punch pot has a green and red slip over a yellow body.

We find another Weildon piece in the small tortoise shell ware teapot, between the owls and the punch pot. This little teapot has blurred patches of manganese brown of rich tone over a cream body, giving the so-called tortoise shell ware. Here again the designer formed by-hand rosettes and formal vine leaves with grapes linked by winding stems and applied in relief to resemble the designs found in silverware.

The plate, for instance, is a beautiful example of tortoise shell ware, the edge being gadrooned like a silver plate.

Then we come to the cauliflower group—the tea caddy, the coffeepot and lid, the milk pitcher, and the teapot, all reminiscent of the last half of the Eighteenth century. The teapot, you will notice, has even been molded to resemble a cauliflower. It was Weildon and his famous partner, Wedgewood, who developed the rich copper green used in the various wares to simulate the cauliflower and other vegetable forms. These designs have been most severely condemned by several continental critics, but something may be said, however, in favor of the cauliflower ware and its kind. If for a moment we can forget the derivation of their forms, we must allow them credit for pleasant color and artistic shapeliness with which to point up a collection of some of the earlier Staffordshire—and they are, moreover, much less realistic than the great cabbage and cauliflower tureens made at Strasbourg, Brussels and other European factories.

P. E. O. officers

Mrs. D. L. Redfern was hostess last Friday afternoon to the members of Chapter CS of P.E.O. at which time the group elected officers for the coming year.

President will be Mrs. John F. Wynkoop who will be assisted by Mrs. Charles H. Anderson, vice president; Mrs. Jack Hyland, recording secretary; Mrs. W. F. Hoppe, corresponding secretary; Miss Margaret Wilson, treasurer; Mrs. James E. Scott, chaplain; and Mrs. Fred Akin, guard.

Representing the chapter at the state convention at Grand Island in May will be Mrs. Wynkoop and Mrs. Anderson.

Women Voters study group

Study group 5 of the League of Women Voters of Lincoln will meet on Thursday morning at the home of Mrs. O. L. Webb, 1848 Prospect. The lesson will begin at 10 o'clock.

LORITA SANDALL

Mr. and Mrs. John Hauser have announced the engagement of their daughter, Lorita Sandall, to Lawrence Frederick Haug, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence H. Haug of Shelton. The wedding will be solemnized during May.

A former student of Mount St. Clair college, Clinton, Iowa, Miss Sandall is a member of Delta Theta Chi business girls' sorority. Mr. Haug is a graduate of the University of Southern California and a member of Alpha Kappa Psi. During the war he served as a bombardier with the 14th air force.

MAXINE FAYE ARMSTRONG

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Maxine Faye Armstrong, to William Owen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Owen, has been made by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Armstrong.

The wedding will take place on May 28.

We Hear That—

Arriving Wednesday evening from Honolulu will be Mrs. Harold Conroy and her three and one-half year-old daughter, Win, who will spend several weeks with Mr. Conroy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Conroy. Mr. Conroy will arrive in Lincoln on April 5 to join his family for the long visit. Mr. and Mrs. Conroy also plan to visit relatives in Ohio and Kentucky.

1950 Officers Of Woman's Club

Mrs. Ray C. Johnson was elected president of the Lincoln Woman's club Monday afternoon at the general meeting of the organization held in the auditorium of Miller and Paine.

Other officers who will serve for the coming year are: Seated, left to right, Mrs. George Mechleng, first vice president; Mrs. Johnson, president; Mrs. J. G. Vaughan, recording secretary. Standing, left to right are Mrs. C. H. Eaton, corresponding secretary; Dr. Eula McEwan, fourth vice president; Mrs. C. F. Bryant, treasurer; Mrs. F. R. Johnson, second vice president, and Mrs. W. H. Osborne, third vice president.

Following the business meeting, an original comedy written by Mrs. F. Graham Campbell, was presented by members of the drama department for the audience of 200 club members. The cast for the comedy, which dramatized the trials of a small town literary group who failed to recognize their well-known guest speaker and sent her to the kitchen while placing in the seat of honor the maid hired for the occasion, included Mrs.

MRS. E. W. ROWE

Frank Galloway, Mrs. John P. Valentiner, Mrs. W. H. Witham, Mrs. Gustav Kopta, Mrs. Alma Pearson, Mrs. W. H. Osborn and Mrs. A. P. Troup.

Mrs. Campbell was presented with a corsage by the club, and bringing the program to a close was a group of songs presented by Bob Hunter, a student at Nebraska Wesleyan university.

Nash sales growth since the war has been more than 4 times as great as that of the Automotive Industry as a whole*...

WHY NASH?

Why Nash? Because Nash has consistently led in the power parade—builder of valve-in-head engines for a third of a century—a leader in high compression.

Because today Nash alone builds a valve-in-head engine of 7.3 to 1 compression ratio that utilizes regular gasoline.

Why Nash? Because Nash was first with automatically-controlled, pressurized heating and ventilation, probably the greatest single health, comfort and safety feature of the modern automobile.

Because today's Nash Weather Eye Conditioned Air System is still first in efficiency and in safety—with fresh, untainted air drawn from outside, above the engine compartment.

Why Nash? Because Nash has been first and foremost in advocating—and delivering—greater gasoline mileage.

Because Nash today builds a big full-size car that delivers more than 25 miles to the gallon at average highway speed.

Why Nash? Because Nash was first to mass-produce the Unitized, welded body-and-frame car that is more rigid, durable, safer and free of squeaks and rattles.

Because today, 12 billion owner miles have proved that Unitized Nash Airflyte Construction has set a new standard for long life and economical operation.

Why Nash? Because today's Nash Airflyte cars by scientific wind-tunnel test have been proved to have 20.7% less air drag than the average of 10 other cars tested—with noticeably less wind-noise, less fuel consumption, and noticeably greater stability.

Why Nash? Because Nash was first to attack the problem of rust by Bonderizing and by more durable baked enamels.

Because today all sheet metal parts of a Nash Airflyte are many times more resistant to wear and fading.

Why Nash? Because today's Nash Airflytes offer more combined passenger and luggage space, dollar for dollar, than any other car.

Why Nash? Because Nash has been years ahead in the development of the car interior. First to have the curved, one-piece windshield on all models, and Uniscrope—and today is the only car offering an Airliner Reclining Seat and Twin Beds.

Garden Club has arranged good program

A very interesting program has been planned by the Garden club of Lincoln for its meeting this evening at 7:45 o'clock, at Morrill hall.

The principal speaker will be Dr. H. O. Werner, professor of horticulture at the University of Nebraska college of agriculture. Dr. Werner, whose topic will be "The New, and the Tried and True in the Vegetable Garden," has been a member of the college of agriculture faculty for thirty years, and during that period he has done some extensive research in potato and tomato growing, working principally for higher yield and disease resistance.

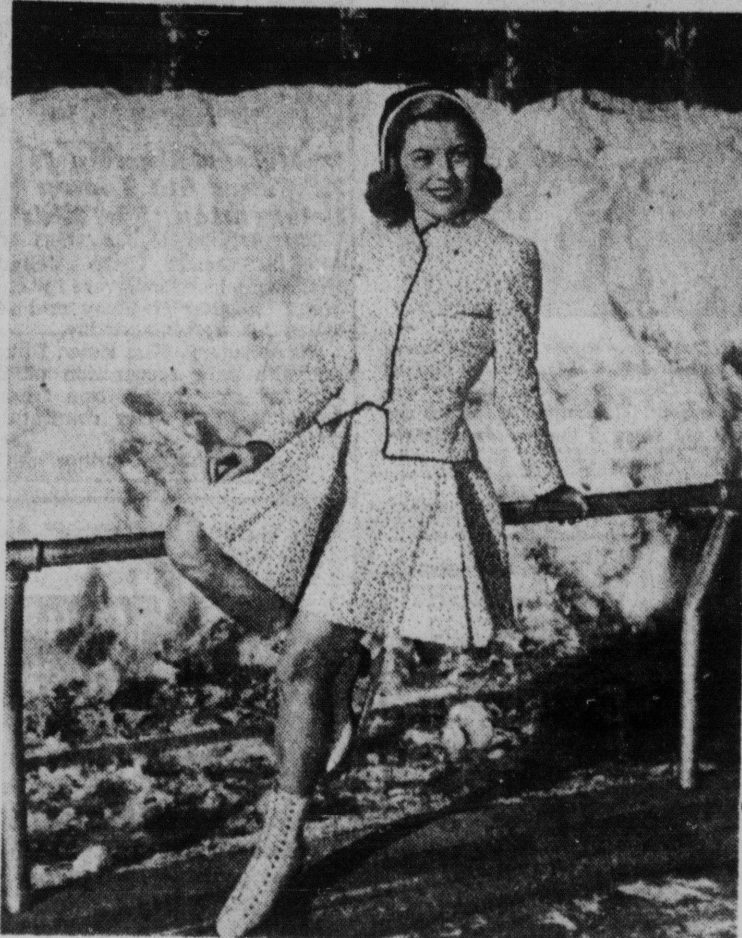

It was through Dr. Werner's efforts that both the Red Cloud and the Sioux tomatoes were introduced. They now are known all over the United States. He also is responsible for the Progress potato which is tending to replace the Triumph. The production of this potato involved a ten year breeding program.

Following Dr. Werner's talk there will be a group discussion on "Gardening Experiences," led by Mrs. Vance Traphagen, and after which Mrs. Clayton Andrews, librarian, will give a report on new gardening books available at the city library.

HERE WE FIND Miss Margaret Cullinan having a little conference with two of seven Huskies that will pull her on a dog-sled ride.

CAREER WOMEN 1950

AFTER A WHIRL ABOUT THE ICE, Miss Pat Herminghaus rests at the edge of the ring in front of Sun Valley lodge.

MISS GEORGIA LEMON (left) and Miss Lois Latsch apparently have no fear of the ski trails—We find them on Dollar mountain, on their afternoon off, preparing for a few hours "on the boards."

P. T. A. programs

The annual men's night program of PRESCOTT P. T. A. will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the school auditorium. Following the business meeting, the program will feature a talk by Mrs. Ruth Pinney and a musical interlude by the "South American Combo," composed of South American students at the University of Nebraska.

Hostesses for the evening will be mothers of second grade pupils.

Over five hundred patrons of HUNTINGTON school braved the ice and snow last Friday evening to attend the annual Fun Night program sponsored by the P.T.A. at the school. Greeting the guests at the door were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Jones and Mr. and Mrs. William Hohenstein, and in charge of the evening's program were Mrs. Austin Goth and Mrs. Harry Pavey, P.T.A. finance co-chairmen.

The program included a variety of entertainment with an abundance of pink cotton candy for the children. A demonstration of magic was presented by Weldon Baker, and chairmen in charge of the various rooms and booths were: Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Underwood, check room; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kennell, square dance; Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Irwin, cake walk; Mr. and Mrs. Percy Mays, ice cream and pop; Austin Goth, magic; Mrs. Melvin May, bake shop; Mrs. Edwin Seng, hot-dog stand; Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Schneiding, novelty booth; Mr. and Mrs. Karl Villwock, fish pond; Mrs. Morton Robinson, Easter hat stand; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith, recreation; and Mrs. George Webleme and Mrs. H. G. Greenamyre, barber and beauty shops.

Bethany woman's club

A review of Alfred Guthrie's book "The Way West," was given at the meeting of the Bethany Woman's club at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, at the Bethany Christian church. Also included in the program were songs by Mrs. Louis Legg.

Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. H. H. Whitlock, Mrs. John Steinhart and Mrs. F. R. Likes.

Pockets Full Of News

WHAT WITH OUR LITTLE red book, our spindle, and practically our pockets brimming over with news, it is just a little difficult to know where to begin on the day's harvest—We might tell you something about the Pelican Outing club—or, we might take up the matter of "The Hungry Dozen,"—then again, there are some mighty interesting guests—and there is a word or two about a young Lincoln woman who has received an exceedingly high honor—We know of travelers and homecomers, and guest courtesies—And, as is usual, we know of some things we can't talk about—

WELL—WHY NOT BEGIN with the Pelican Lake Outing club? It doesn't take a crystal gazer, probably, to tell you that the membership of the Pelican Lake Outing club has to do with Lincoln's summer residents at Pelican lake.

This evening the members of the group—about thirty in all, will meet for a covered dish dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walton C. Ferris. Included in the group will be Mrs. A. B. Wilson, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson of Nebraska City, also summer residents at Pelican—and members of the Outing club.

Following the dinner there will be a business meeting—and we're guessing that some of the time will be devoted to plans involving the fiftieth anniversary celebration of August Eiche next summer at Pelican lake. Last summer was Mr. Eiche's forty-ninth summer at the lake, so it naturally follows that the approaching season will be his fiftieth. The supper, incidentally, is the annual meeting of the group—the first one, held last winter, so successful that it was decided to continue them.

NOW WE THINK WE SHOULD tell you about the guest who arrives Wednesday evening—She is Mrs. F. Leonard Burns, M. D. (Edith Marie Alcorn) and she is driving from Sioux Falls, S. D. to spend several days as the guest of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Alcorn—Mr. Burns plans to fly to Lincoln on Saturday, and accompany Mrs. Burns home.

THE COURTESIES FOR MRS. BURNS begin on Friday when Mrs. Alcorn will be a luncheon hostess at her home, complimenting her daughter. Sixteen guests have been invited.

AND ON THURSDAY OF NEXT week, Mrs. Burns will be the honoree at a luncheon for which Mrs. Wallace Webster will be hostess at her home.

EXCITING NEWS CAME TO Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Henn via telephone Tuesday evening, when their daughter, Miss Mary Jo Henn, a senior at the University of Nebraska college of medicine, told them she had been elected to Alpha Omega Alpha, the college of medicine's highest scholastic honor. Miss Henn has been in the top eight in her class since beginning her studies at the college of medicine—and is one of three women who will graduate in June.

THAT CLUB WITH THE fascinat- ing name of "The Hungry Dozen," is a dinner club which will meet Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Harrington. This time, however, the group will number fourteen since Mr. and Mrs. Jiggs Miller of Omaha have been invited down for the dinner. The after-dinner hours will be devoted to canasta.

SOMEONE TOLD US THAT Mrs. A. Q. Schimmel and Mrs. Harold Hanson were in Norfolk today, attending a Girl Scout meeting.

THE DELTA GAMMA ALUM- NAE will be out of circulation on Wednesday evening—The membership will be attending a 6:30 o'clock buffet supper at the home of Mrs. F. B. Baylor. The hostess committee includes Mrs. Edward J. Walt, jr., chairman; Mrs. D. A. Worcester, Miss Sally Cattle, Mrs. John Hallett, Mrs. L. W. Korsmeyer, Mrs. James Richard Grant, Miss Joan Holmes, Mrs. William Rotton, Mrs. Clarence Hinds, Mrs. Ray Marvin, Mrs. Walter Nolte and Miss Mary Augustine.

The guest speaker will be Miss Madeline Girard, executive secretary of the Panhellenic advisory board—Her topic will be—you've guessed it—the Panhellenic advisory board.

HEARD THAT THERE is to be a meeting of the 100 club committee on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Knight—The group will discuss plans for the club's April party.

LEARNED TODAY, TOO, that Cadet Sidney Anderson, jr., is home from Wentworth Military academy—He arrived last Wednesday—Classes begin at Wentworth on Wednesday morning of this week—But Cadet Anderson, because of some very high honors he received, has extra leave—until Friday.

BOB BEGHTOL HAS BEEN on our mind for the past day or two—wondered where he was, what he was doing, and if or when he might be coming home—

He isn't coming home—that we know. Mr. Beghtol, who is with the state department and who, until recently, has been stationed in Munich, has received a promotion—He is now vice-consul at Dusseldorf, Germany, in the British zone.

WHILE WE WERE CHECKING on the young diplomat, thought we might inquire as to when his sister, Karen Beghtol, would be returning from Emma Willard for the spring holiday—She arrives the evening of March 30 to spend ten days with her parents, M. and Mrs. Max V. Beghtol—She returns to Troy, N. Y., and school on Easter Sunday.

HEAR THERE WAS A "COF- FEE" out Kimballerest way this morning—Mrs. Lloyd True entertained her group of Red Cross workers.

ON THE HOMECOMERS LIST ten days hence will be Mr. and Mrs. William R. Wright who have been spending several weeks at St. Petersburg, Fla.

AND APROPOS OF HOMECOM- ERS—Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Ammon arrived home this afternoon after a several weeks trip through the southwest, and California.

THAT REMINDS US OF PHOE- NIX, Ariz., and Mrs. George B. Cook who is expected home next week after a holiday of a week or two.

AND STILL MORE HOMECOM- ERS—Mr. and Mrs. John Agee, who left three weeks ago for California, plan to return home in another ten days.

WE DEFINITELY HAVE A lik- ing for the Saturday night plans of Mr. and Mrs. John Hedge and Mr. and Mrs. Wyman Kenney—This foursome will be dinner hosts and hostesses at the Omaha club when they entertain a guest eightsome from Lincoln—Following dinner the group will attend the hockey game.

HEARD THIS AYEM THAT Mr. and Mrs. John Brownlee and their family were off last Saturday for Florida for a two or three weeks holiday—

AND WHILE THIS ISN'T exactly travel news—we think the jaunt that Mr. and Mrs. Harold Salisbury are taking to their former home Beatrice—this evening—Sounds like fun—Mr. and Mrs. Salisbury are going down for the opera—one of the events on the Beatrice great artist course—

Of course, we really will be able to call Mrs. Salisbury and her daughter, Karen, when April 1 rolls around—They are going to Sidney for a several days visit with Mrs. Salisbury's brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Max Cory.

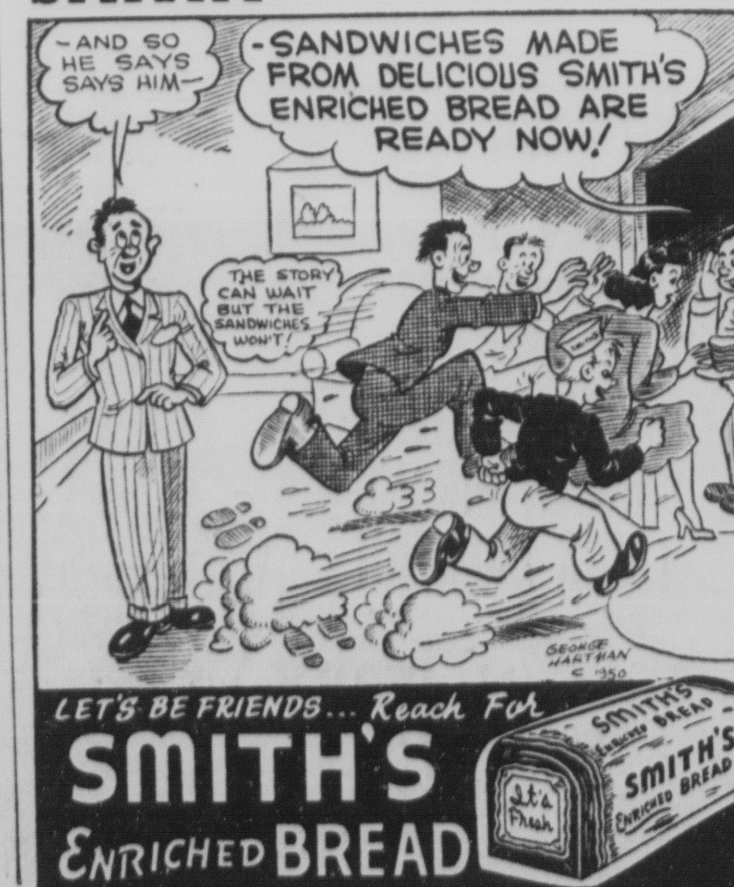

BUT NOW WE HAVE NEWS of bona fide travelers—Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hoppe who, no sooner home from Florida, than off again—Mr. and Mrs. Hoppe left last Saturday for Los Angeles where they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Herman, formerly of Lincoln. The foursome leaves Wednesday evening for Hawaii for a stay of several weeks.

THAT BRINGS TO MIND news of homecomers—Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Knapp, to be specific, who have just returned from a three weeks stay in Mississippi—between Biloxi and Gulfport.

MISS CATHERINE CORP, a freshman at Christian college, Columbia, Mo., has a large red ring around April 5—that is the day she will be coming home for her Easter holiday—Miss Corp, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Corp, has six days vacation.

THERE IS APPLAUSE from the Bassinet club today over the arrival of Alan Reed McCracken on Tuesday, March 14, at Lincoln General hospital Alan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. McCracken, and his mother is the former Katherine Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Dr. Sorenson Speaker—Dr. Frank Sorenson will speak at the American Interprofessional Institute, meeting Saturday night at 8:45 on "Critical Issues Before the United Nations."

Bushnell Wins Fellowship For Study Abroad

Robert J. Bushnell, 21, Nebraska Wesleyan university senior from Wilcox, has been awarded a Rotary International fellowship for study abroad. He is a political science major.

He is one of 85 outstanding students from 25 countries selected for the award made by Rotary.

Bushnell will take graduate work special—Robert Bushnell is in international relations, at the University of Brussels, in preparation for teaching political science at the college level.

His application for the fellowship was sponsored by the Holdrege club.

Bushnell entered Wesleyan in 1946 on two four-year scholarships, the Nebraska Regents scholarship and the Nebraska Church College scholarship. In 1949 he was awarded a full tuition scholarship in the U. S. S. R. Institute at the University of Denver.

Bushnell has been president of the Wesleyan international relations club and business manager of the college newspaper.

He was born in Alma, Neb., and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Bushnell of Wilcox.

Nebraska City Stages 'Indicator' Election

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb.—(AP)—Nebraska City votes today in a primary election that will serve chiefly as an indicator of sentiment for the April 4 general election.

Three school board members are unopposed for re-election, and seven candidates are on the ballot for six city council positions. The order in which they place will be an indicator of the possible makeup of the city council in May.

The primary result may also indicate sentiment on the parking meter question to be voted on in the general election. Two of the candidates seeking reelection voted to install meters and the third sought unsuccessfully to stop meters with a court injunction. The outcome of these three candidates will be regarded as an indication of how voters feel on the parking meter question.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 1. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

State Traffic 38 Pct. Heavier Than '49 Count

Traffic on Nebraska highways so far this year has run about 38 per cent heavier than in the first two months of 1949, the highway department reported today.

An increase this year. No. 4 west of Davenport showed the least increase—14 per cent. The average daily vehicle count last month showed 2,741 on U. S. 77 north of Fremont; 2,470 on U. S. 6 near Gretna; and 2,442 on U. S. 26 east of Scottsbluff.

Old-Time Posse Tracks Killer Of Texas Sheriff

Armed Men On Horseback Are Pursuing Handcuffed Slayer Heading For Mexico

MARFA, Tex.—(AP)—The hunt for the killer of a Texas sheriff today had all the elements of a wild west thriller—a hand-cuffed fugitive on a rugged mountain chain, pursued by an armed posse on horseback.

Grim-faced sheriffs of the Big Bend country of southwest Texas, Texas rangers and border riders rode at dawn—gun belts buckled tight—sawing down the trail of the unidentified slayer.

The shooting early Sunday of Sheriff O. W. (Blackie) Morrow, 43, on a lonely mountain road flipped back the pages of time to the days of the old west.

It brought back the posse on horseback—booted men packing six-shooters; the sign cutters—men who can read a story in a smashed cactus, a scuffed patch of grass.

Texas Ranger Gully Cowsert rode into Marfa late last night and said a mounted posse had tracked the killer of Morrow 15 miles through rugged mountains, but lost his trail near the Mexican border.

River riders patrolled the Rio Grande through the night to prevent the killer from slipping into Mexico—if he hasn't done so.

Morrow, a popular navy veteran, was shot and left dying early Sunday on a lonely road between here and Presidio, nestled against the Rio Grande. The sheriff, blood pouring from a hole through the left side of his body, managed to get into his car and drive a mile toward Presidio before he died.

When the posse found the trail they had this theory:

The husky, six-foot sheriff apparently had stopped to make an arrest. His pistol and handcuffs were missing, so he might have been shot with his own gun.

Cowsert related the trail sign told that:

Their quarry was handcuffed and must have had terrifically hard going. There was evidence he had fallen into ocotillo bushes—cactus plants with needle-like spines that seem to spring free of the bush and into the skin.

W. H. Heiser Files For Legislature In First District

William H. Heiser, Falls City, filed Tuesday for nomination to the legislature in the first unicameral district. The incumbent is Sen. Charles Vogt, jr., Liberty, serving his first term.

The district comprises Johnson, Pawnee and Richardson counties. Heiser is manager of the Elks club at Falls City and formerly was in the insurance business. He is a veteran of the air force in World War II.

Senator Vogt has not indicated whether he will again be a candidate.

Child Star Says She's 'Starved'

LORA LEE MICHEL, 9, RUNS AWAY FROM FOSTER PARENTS

HOLLYWOOD — (INS) — Lora Lee Michel, the 9-year-old child actress who ran away from home because she was "hungry all the time" and did not want to be a movie star, was in juvenile hall today drinking milk to her heart's content.

Authorities quoted the child, who reportedly earns $100 a day, as saying:

"I was hungry all the time. I never want to be in the movies again. I never want to go back to them (the Michels). I want to go to school with the kids."

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Lora Lee Michel, 9-year-old child movie actress, ran away from her foster parents' home last night and deputies said she reiterated a complaint that she was being starved so that she could play little girl roles.

The sheriff's office reported that the girl fled in her pajamas last night shortly after Mrs. Lorraine Michel, 55, her foster mother, had left her saying her bedtime prayers.

She was found by the Rev. Elford Sundstrom, pastor of the United Brethren church, in nearby Burbank. He phoned deputies. The minister told officers that Lora Lee arrived at his house in a cab at about 10 o'clock last night. He quoted her as saying:

"I had to get away. I couldn't stand it any longer."

The minister then told the deputies that the child said she was hungry and had lost 10 pounds in the last month. He said he took her to a drive-in cafe and she ate a cheese sandwich, a piece of pie and milk.

Mrs. Michel had noted the child's disappearance about 9:30 p. m., and, after a frantic search of the neighborhood, notified the sheriff's office.

Night Riders Active In Alabama

Gangs Dodge State Law By Wearing No Masks, Robes

... State Officials Blame Klan For New Outrages

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—(AP)—Night-prowling bands, apparently peaceful for months, have resumed the wave of mob terror which last year led to an anti-masking law in this state. This year, the gangs operate without robes or masks.

But state officials blame the new outrages on the Ku Klux Klan, just as they did the acts of masked hoodlums in 1949.

Four men are charged with murder at Pell City, 40 miles east of Birmingham, in the Feb. 22 night-riding slaying of Charlie Hurst, country storekeeper.

Just before his death, Hurst burst into his home and cried: "Looks like the Ku Kluxers are after me."

The men charged in this case are Claude Luker, Talladega furniture dealer; Charlie Carlisle, Jr., 24-year-old textile mill worker; Albert Wilson, 33, Talladega county farmer, and C. M. Hunter, Pell City mattress manufacturer and former county jail warden.

Three others arrested in the killing were freed last Saturday. They include the Rev. Alvin Horn, Baptist minister and organizer for the Association of Georgia Klans; Jesse Wilson, 55, father of Albert Wilson, and E. L. Hudson, Talladega carpenter.

Here in Birmingham, 18 men are under indictment for masked flogging and related charges brought by a grand jury last summer.

Of this group, Coleman A. (Brownie) Lollar, admitted Klansman, has been acquitted at two separate trials. He still faces several other charges.

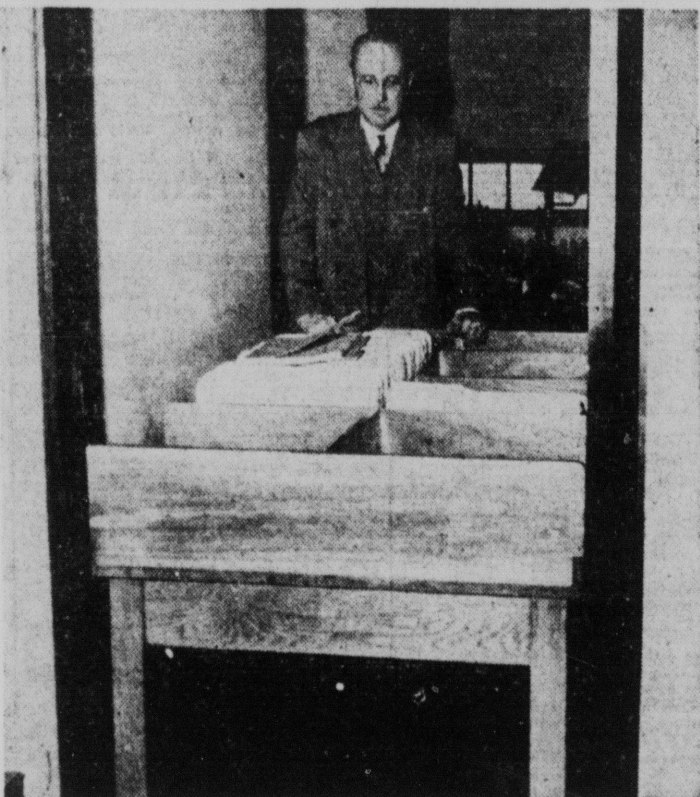

Another case, that of Klansman A. B. (Byrd) Carradine, ended in a mistrial last December. The Lollar and Carradine trials followed raids by hooded, robed bands last spring and early summer in hilly, coal-mining areas west of here.

The Invisible Empire of the Klan, split by dissension and splinter groups denied any part of these threats, floggings and cross burnings. But Klan victims described official Klan regalia in telling how their assailants were dressed.

Most of the victims were white people. They were told by the gangs they had committed some moral offense or should get a job and go to work.

Last June, the Alabama legislature passed an anti-masking law providing a fine of up to $1,000 and 12 months in jail on conviction.

NEW PROBLEM FOR STATE—Liquor Commissioner Blaine Young studies a good idea that went awry. He is shown looking at a desk specially built so that it could be loaded with liquor licenses' files and moved from office to office. While unloaded it was turned on its side and taken into Young's office. However, when loaded, it was discovered the 49-inch wide desk would not go through a 47-inch door. Seems an unnamed person measured the wrong door when making the desk. (Staff Photo.)

Robeson Will Not Speak On TV Program

... After Many Protests

NEW YORK — (AP) — Paul Robeson's scheduled appearance on Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's television show has been called off.

A National Broadcasting Co. spokesman said the left-wing Negro singer's scheduled appearance was "indefinitely postponed" and probably will be cancelled.

The progressive party, which Robeson was to have represented on Mrs. Roosevelt's weekly forum next Sunday, called the action "censorship of the air."

It had been announced at the close of Mrs. Roosevelt's program last Sunday that Robeson would be a guest next Sunday in a discussion of "The Position of the Negro in American Political Life."

An NBC spokesman said yesterday "an influx" of telephone protests followed the announcement, and that Elliott Roosevelt and Martin Jones, co-producers of the show, had decided to postpone the racial program indefinitely.

Street Improvement Ordinances Passed

Passed on the third reading by the city council Monday were eight street and property improvement ordinances and one zoning ordinance.

Zoned from residence to industrial A was property between Merrill and Leighton, and Thirty-first and the alley between Thirty-second and Thirty-third.

The improvement ordinances create:

Graveling and grading districts on Forty-third and Forty-fourth streets between Summer and Franklin.

Water districts on Thirty-sixth street from South to Sewell, and Fremont street from Sixty-fifth to Sixty-ninth.

Sewer districts on Thirty-sixth from South to Sewell, and in the alley bounded by Sixty-sixth and Sixty-ninth, and Hartley and Fremont.
